Questions submitted by: John Stansfield, Bristol Animal Rebellion

Q1. Does the council believe that it is (morally) acceptable to promote environmentally destructive products and brands in its public spaces given their own actions and commitments to combat the climate crisis and the council's duty of care to its constituents?

Q2. How does the council plan to carry out their commitment stated in the One City Plan to developing "A citywide shared understanding and commitment to responsible consumption (including lower carbon foods)"?
