Introduction

Welcome to Bristol City Council’s Business Plan for the financial year April 2023 – March 2024. This plan sets out the priority actions for the year ahead to deliver the vision and priorities set out in the seven strategic themes of our Corporate Strategy 2022–2027

They are:

- 1. Children and young people
- 2. Economy and skills
- 3. Environment and sustainability
- 4. Health, care, and wellbeing
- 5. Homes and communities
- 6. Transport and connectivity
- 7. Effective development organisation

This Plan sets out our main planned activities for April 2023 – March 2024 to achieve the vision and priorities we have set ourselves and our city:

“ We play a leading role in driving an inclusive, sustainable and healthy city of hope and aspiration, one where everyone can share in its success. ”

The approach the council is taking is to play more of an enabling role in the city and working with partners to build a better Bristol that includes everyone in the city’s success. As part of this approach, our priority is to set a balanced and legal budget each year, as we continue to deliver much needed services and take the action needed to tackle the issues facing the city.

We are here to empower citizens and work with communities to help identify solutions together, enhance our joint work and reduce demand for traditional council services. We will continue to steward the city by working in partnership with local, regional, and national organisations to support the health, economic, social, and environmental wellbeing of Bristol. The One City approach underpins this work and promotes collaboration amongst partners to tackle the largest problems we face as a city and embed a model of city leadership.

However, as set out in our budget consultation, the council is experiencing a cost of operating crisis. This will affect our ability to carry out all the activities we want to and may affect our ability to provide the services we want in the years to come. The process of making our organisation smaller, do less and focus in on its priorities, while improving efficiency, is reflected in this year’s annual Business Plan

2022/23 a Year in review

- Against the backdrop of high inflation, the lingering impact of the pandemic and a cost of living crisis, the council was able to deliver a balanced budget in February, following a meeting of Full Council. This was achieved despite a financial challenge requiring £16 million of savings and extra income to be found to meet our legal duties.

- Our City Leap partner – a world-first partnership with Ameresco Limited, and Vattenfall Heat UK – was agreed and will deliver half a billion pounds of clean energy investment, saving around 140,000 tonnes of carbon across the city and creating a thousand jobs in the first five years.

- Bristol was also awarded £1.3 million following a successful bid with the NetZeroCities Pilot Cities Programme from the European Union Cities Mission. The only UK city to be awarded funding, the grant will be used to further accelerate climate action and rapidly decarbonise the city.

- In June, we secured a £95 million government investment in the regeneration of Temple Quarter to unlock 10,000 homes, 22,000 jobs and transformation of Temple Meads Station. Three new entrances will help double capacity to 22 million passengers per year and restore Brunel’s station façade. An additional £14.2 million was also secured for the transformation of Filwood Broadway following a successful bid to the national Levelling Up Fund.

- The council broke ground at Hengrove Park development site that will have 1,435 new homes, 50per cent affordable and made progress on other major housing commitments, including the Boklok scheme on Airport Road and 250 new homes on Bonnington Walk. The council also continued to support the delivery of the YTL Arena.

- Work to build a mass transit system that will transform the way we move around the city region continued this year. The economic and geological assessment work was completed and we are now working with regional partners to commit a further £15 million to take this work to the next stage.
- As a response to fire safety concerns, in Autumn, we accelerated work to remove cladding from two-thirds of the council’s high-rise tower blocks. While the works are carried out, fire safety patrols by fully trained fire wardens, sometimes known as a waking watch, are in place around the clock to help keep the buildings safe.

- Work on the Living Rent Commission gathered pace with a series of meetings and is due to report in Spring 2023. The commission, made up of representatives from across the housing sector including renters, is exploring the issues facing people who rent, and options to tackle the rent crisis in the city.

- Responding to the cost of living crisis, a network of Welcoming Spaces in communities across Bristol were set up to offer immediate support. These are community venues people can use as meeting places, access Wi-Fi, be warm and, if needed, access support and advice on anything from finance to emotional wellbeing, mental health, employment and skills.
- To reduce air pollution in the city, the Clean Air Zone was launched in November, with £42m financial support made available for residents, organisations and businesses. No vehicles are banned from entering the zone but older and more polluting vehicles are now being charged.

- We continued to work with the City Office to deliver the goals of the One City Plan. There are currently over 20 task and finish groups working on issues including raising the presence of underrepresented groups in teaching, green skills, and fleet decarbonisation. The first in-person City Gathering since 2019 took place this March, with over 300 city partners coming together to discuss the challenges and opportunities for the city.

Sustainable Development Goals

The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are a framework for the key global challenges of economic, environmental, and social sustainability, which every country in the world agreed to deliver by 2030.

They are a set of 17 interconnected goals underpinned by 169 targets. Bristol is committed to delivering the SDGs locally and is the only UK city to have conducted a Voluntary Local Review to map Bristol's progress against the goals.

Within this Business Plan, we have highlighted which actions will be contributing to achieving the SDGs. This mapping was undertaken at the target level with the specific SDG(s) identified. For more information about the specific targets under each goal, please visit the UN website.

More about this Business Plan

Each theme in the Corporate Strategy has specific priority areas and each priority has actions allocated to it. The aim of our Business Plan is to show what actions we will deliver in 2023/24. In this plan we set out:

- Which part of the council and Cabinet Member is responsible for each action
- SDGs linked to the action; and which One City Board the action is relevant to
- How we are monitoring progress and making a difference
- A glossary of useful terms – these are indicated with an asterisk (*) throughout the document

Our Approach

Strategic actions and priority measures of our success underpin this plan. Some actions may relate to more than one commitment but are listed next to the most relevant one.

To ensure there is ownership of the priority actions set out in the Business Plan and how these actions interlink, each Corporate Strategy theme (e.g. Children and Young People) has a nominated owner allocated from within the council's senior leadership team. This will ensure cross cutting issues are effectively governed across multiple service areas.

The ongoing impact of the pandemic and national cost of living crisis, and their long-term effects, have become an integral part of how all our services operate and how the organisation plans for the foreseeable future. This plan covers a significant amount of work carried out by council colleagues but a range of partners will also contribute to its success.

Our Obligations

Part of the council's role is to meet statutory and regulatory obligations and other requirements set through national legislation or policy. Examples include highways maintenance, waste collection or providing sufficient school places. To keep this plan brief, the actions only refer to these where they are relevant to a key commitment. We will always comply with our legally required obligations.

Measures of success: a performance framework

The council has carried out a review of how corporate performance is measured, reported and managed. Through this review we remain committed to increasing the use of technology, data and new digital tools to improve how we monitor and manage performance.

The performance framework, which will be published alongside the Business Plan, monitors progress through a blend of actions and performance metrics that will report quarterly and annually and will look at a range of performance measures as well as progress updates.

Performance metrics will be in two key categories: City Outcomes and Business Plan priority metrics. In addition, Business Plan actions will now also be reported against each quarter as follows:

- City Outcomes – These are annual indicators centred on the Corporate Strategy themes. They are primarily outcome focused measures that are longer term in nature and slower moving, reporting annually (often in arrears) and look to assess the overall ‘health of the city’. These measures comprise a collective responsibility encompassing one or more key partners and cannot be delivered solely by Bristol City Council.
- Business Plan priority metrics – These will mainly be quarterly measures, centred on the Corporate Strategy priorities, with direct data available to measure progress throughout the year. These are metrics the council has more direct responsibility over, and so will be used to measure council performance.
- Business Plan priority actions – Progress updates for each of the priority actions will be reported on quarterly. This will provide consistent reporting on all priorities, including those without specific quantitative metrics, and will give a more rounded view of the council’s performance.

Targets for 2023/24 will be published in July 2023, once we have seen and considered the final results of our performance in 2022/23. These measures and targets will be published on the Performance page on our website, along with quarterly performance reports.

Theme 1: Children and young people

A city where every child belongs and every child gets the best start in life, whatever circumstances they were born in to.

As set out in our Corporate Strategy, our ambitions for the city’s children include having a healthy and happy life, being safe, having access to an education that develops their potential, having the opportunity to influence decisions in the city, and growing up with a sense of belonging and pride. Children are the future of the city, and we have to help them thrive and become actively engaged citizens who will take on the city’s future vision and direction.

Not all children have equal experiences of living in and growing up in Bristol. Inequalities have also been amplified by the pandemic and current national cost of living crisis. If we are to mitigate the adverse impact of this across our communities and build back better within a generation, we must put children and young people at the heart of our recovery and invest in them and their families.

Councils such as Bristol spend millions each year providing services, with statutory care for vulnerable adults and children dominating spending. Our children’s social care pressures remain high and this year we will seek to improve our commissioning arrangements to deliver improved outcomes and value for money. We are working to maximise sources of funding so youth services can continue in the city and are also reviewing Early Help funding to support our development of a Family Hub approach. Work continues to support foster care recruitment and retention across the city and we will also increase our available capacity of council-run children’s homes. This will help us to try and reduce the number of children who are placed in expensive placements outside of the city, improving outcomes whilst reducing our overall costs.

There also remains significant challenges in relation to the Dedicated Schools Grant (DSG), a deficit driven predominantly from pressures within our High Needs Block. This is money to pay for services to help children and young people who have special education needs and disabilities (SEND) as well as those with the highest level of needs. To address these challenges, work, collaboration and engagement will continue on our transformation programmes alongside activity focused on the continuing improvement in SEND provision.

Theme 2: Economy and skills

Economic growth that builds inclusive and resilient communities, decarbonises the city, and offers equity of opportunity.

Bristol has created one of the most vibrant and successful economies in the UK, but one that has not distributed its wealth equally and may face medium to long-term harm from the impact of the pandemic. An inclusive economy with equal access to employment, skills and progression for all is a foundation for a healthy population.

Nationally, among the Core Cities, Bristol has experienced sustained growth in both population and economic scale and has the highest productivity levels per capita, employment and qualification rates of the major cities. However, our city is also constrained by historic deficiencies such as public transport capacity, a housing crisis that risks shutting out many of our essential and key workers, and persistent inequalities that mean 15 per cent of our residents live in some of the most deprived areas in England.

The number of young people in Bristol attending university is low and this can affect their income and career progression later in life. People from deprived parts of the city and some demographic groups, including Black, Asian and minority ethnic communities, and women, have faced inequalities at work and in education.

The recovery process from the pandemic is an opportunity to protect those areas of the economy vital to the future development of the city. However, we are not aiming to take our economy back to where it was. Instead, we aim for a more sustainable, carbon neutral, ecologically positive approach, and a fair, inclusive and competitive economy that supports growth across all our communities for the benefit of local people.

Our Economy and Skills Priorities for 2022–2027 are:

ES1	<h3 style="margin: 0;">Regeneration</h3> Our Corporate Strategy vision: Enable the growth, development, and regeneration of the city in an inclusive, sustainable, healthy and resilient way. Theme 3: Environment and sustainability

Decarbonise the city, support the recovery of nature and lead a just transition to a low-carbon future.

Bristol is committed to become carbon neutral, climate resilient and better for nature by 2030. To achieve this, we need to radically rethink how we live, work and invest in the city. We need to prepare for the changing climate, which is having impacts on health, livelihoods, food security, raw materials, water supply and economic growth.

As we work with partners to decarbonise Bristol and create a more circular economy, we must recognise that we cannot uniformly pass costs on to citizens. The transition to a low-carbon city needs meaningful national investment and support from the government and investors. The whole city system needs to take on the challenge and responsibility to act, from making the big changes in industries to providing decent employment that enables more people to do their bit. Bristol City Leap partnership will play a leading role. This provides a 20-year investment plan to help decarbonise the city through a unique public-private partnership structure and is designed to create 1,000 new jobs and cut 140,000 tonnes of emissions over its first five years. We need similar urgency and collaboration when tackling the ecological emergency facing the city.

Working alongside partners, we must transform the way we manage our city and the surrounding countryside if we're to halt and reverse declines in wildlife and restore a healthy natural environment for people and wildlife. As we plan for the future and update old infrastructure, we will balance environmental and ecological needs with social and economic ones. These are not necessarily in competition with each other. By working together with partners and citizens, we can create places that are fit for a low-carbon, nature-friendly future while offering a better quality of life.

Theme 4: Health, care and wellbeing

Tackling health inequalities to help people stay healthier and happier throughout their lives.

There is clear evidence that social and economic inequalities lead to health inequalities. Inequality of income, in housing conditions, education and schooling, and workplace conditions can all lead to persistent stress and poverty that result in lower levels of wellbeing and more ill-health along with challenges for carers. We will take a public health approach to tackling health inequalities, focusing on preventative and early intervention approaches that are person-centred and rooted in communities. This includes taking a ‘Health in All Policies’ approach, meaning that whenever we develop a new policy we consider how we can pro-actively benefit people’s health and wellbeing.

The need to deal with COVID-19 helped strengthen partnership working across the city, and we will continue to build on this to raise living standards and health outcomes for all, ensuring equity for the most deprived in the city as we work with partners to embed the Integrated Care System.

Adult social care continues to face significant demand and resource challenges in meeting care and support needs. This relates both to the impact on providers from rising costs as well as significant inflationary and workforce pressures. Cost pressures include increased numbers and cost of young people transitioning from children to adult services. We will continue to boost usage of technology enabled care, increasing social housing for people with care and support needs.

We are also taking steps to review our adult social care budget and what we pay external organisations to provide care services on our behalf, to ensure the services we provide are fair, affordable and represent good value. A wider review of how we resource the delivery of statutory services is also underway.

HCW1

Transforming care

Our Corporate Strategy vision: Work with partners to implement an Integrated Care System – transforming adult social care and joining up health, care, education, skills, and community activities. Support people to be as resilient and independent as possible, developing their assets to live fulfilling lives. When more support is needed, this will be person-centred, offering people choice and control. Co-create a system that takes a public health approach to achieve health and wellbeing equality for local people of all ages and backgrounds. Work together to attract and retain a suitable health and care workforce.

Theme 5: Homes and communities

Healthy, resilient, and inclusive neighbourhoods with fair access to decent, affordable homes.

Having a stable home and community to belong to are key to feeling positively connected to others and the city. We want everyone to be able to experience a community that is safe and healthy, helps them be an engaged citizen, and lead a meaningful collective social and cultural life. However, Bristol’s appeal as a desirable place to live and work has meant high house prices and high rents, making the city unaffordable for many. We know there are large and growing disparities and inequalities in fair access to a decent home for many people in Bristol.

We have put housing at the heart of what we want to invest in and deliver. Project 1,000 is our ambitious expression of that. This year, we have also explored the challenge of high rents in the city through the One City Living Rent Commission, due to report in 2023. However, we know the pandemic and current cost of living crisis have further highlighted and reinforced existing inequalities. Areas of high deprivation may also be more polluted, have less green and healthy space, or reduced access to other areas of the city for work opportunities and social activities.

It isn’t just building homes that’s important: it’s how they and their supporting infrastructure, jobs and community spaces are created. It’s also where they are built, as prioritising brownfield locations in active travel areas will reduce the carbon price the planet pays.

The city is also rebuilding its thriving cultural and creative sector, so everyone has an equal chance to participate, to enjoy cultural assets, and to understand the history that has shaped Bristol to become the city it is today. We will seek to support grassroots and professional sports clubs to increase the level of resident participation in sport and physical activity in their everyday lives. Our parks programme will also help shape the future of Bristol’s parks and green spaces by providing healthy outdoor spaces for all residents to enjoy across the city. Through our Quality of Life survey, we know residents also want to feel safe in their communities. We will continue to take a zero-tolerance approach to abuse, or crime based on sex, disability, gender reassignment, race, age, religion, or sexuality.

Our Corporate Strategy vision: Ensure the affordability, availability, diversity and sustainability of housing for all. Build and retain new social housing; review the system for allocating social housing; provide more supported and extra-care housing for those who need it; pursue a ‘living rent’ in the city; and ensure there are strong long-term plans for the council’s own housing stock and the use of land in the city.

Theme 6: Transport and connectivity

A more efficient, sustainable, and inclusive connection of people to people, people to jobs and people to opportunity.

We know that congestion, and its effect on air quality, is a major issue in Bristol and has an adverse impact on our inclusive economic growth. Inequality across the city exists in part due to the historic lack of good quality transport options available to connect citizens reliably and affordably to services, jobs, and each other. People living in more deprived areas often encounter worse air pollution, a higher proportion of traffic injuries, and live closer to major roads which cut across their communities.

We have made progress in recent years. We have seen rising levels of public transport use in Bristol when other cities across the UK experienced a decline. However, there is still more to do. Alongside our regional partners and the West of England Combined Authority, we want to deliver an improved sustainable and resilient transport network. This will support Bristol's vibrant independent local centres and neighbourhoods, connecting people to an attractive and thriving city centre. To do this, our city needs to continue the transition to increased use of sustainable modes of transport, such as walking, cycling and public transport. Adapting key routes will help us meet this challenge head on, as will continuing to improve the city's bus rapid transit scheme.

Our ambition is for Bristol to be a city of sustainable communities that combines housing, employment, retail, education, training and leisure functions, all linked by a strong public transport network. We know that both major infrastructure and changes in behaviour take time, but over the next year we will continue to make progress towards becoming a better-connected city that enables people to move around efficiently.

Theme 7: Effective development organisation

From city government to city governance: creating a focused council that empowers individuals, communities and partners to flourish and lead.

Being an effective development organisation means making substantial changes to our ways of working. In recent years, we have worked hard to get a stronger grip on our governance and to improve our approach to equality and inclusion.

We have made good progress, but several challenges remain. The council is larger than most of its counterparts and it is not always more efficient or effective. We need to consider what the right size, shape and scale is for the city's future needs, streamline processes and target our limited resources to those most in need given the financial pressure we face.

Our financial challenges will affect our ability to carry out all the activities we want to and may affect our ability to provide the services we want in the years to come. The process of making our organisation smaller, do less and focus in on its priorities, while improving efficiency, is at the heart of our corporate plan for the coming year.

However, throughout the pandemic we learned many lessons we can build on going forward. We demonstrated our ability to be adaptable, respond quickly and work in a joined-up, cohesive way for the benefit of citizens. We have strengthened our partnerships in the city and have become united more closely around common goals. We have sought to change our ways of working and embraced innovative technology at a pace we have never achieved before. And we have worked more closely and inclusively with our communities and more effectively with the voluntary, community and social enterprise sector. The council can now build further on this work as we prepare for a change to a new committee model of governance from May 2024.
